

No functional agent. No security.

Agent-based security solutions only provide protection on endpoints with properly installed and up-to-date security agents.

We ASKED:

What is your confidence level that security and management agents are installed and working properly on 100% of the computers.

The RESPONSE:

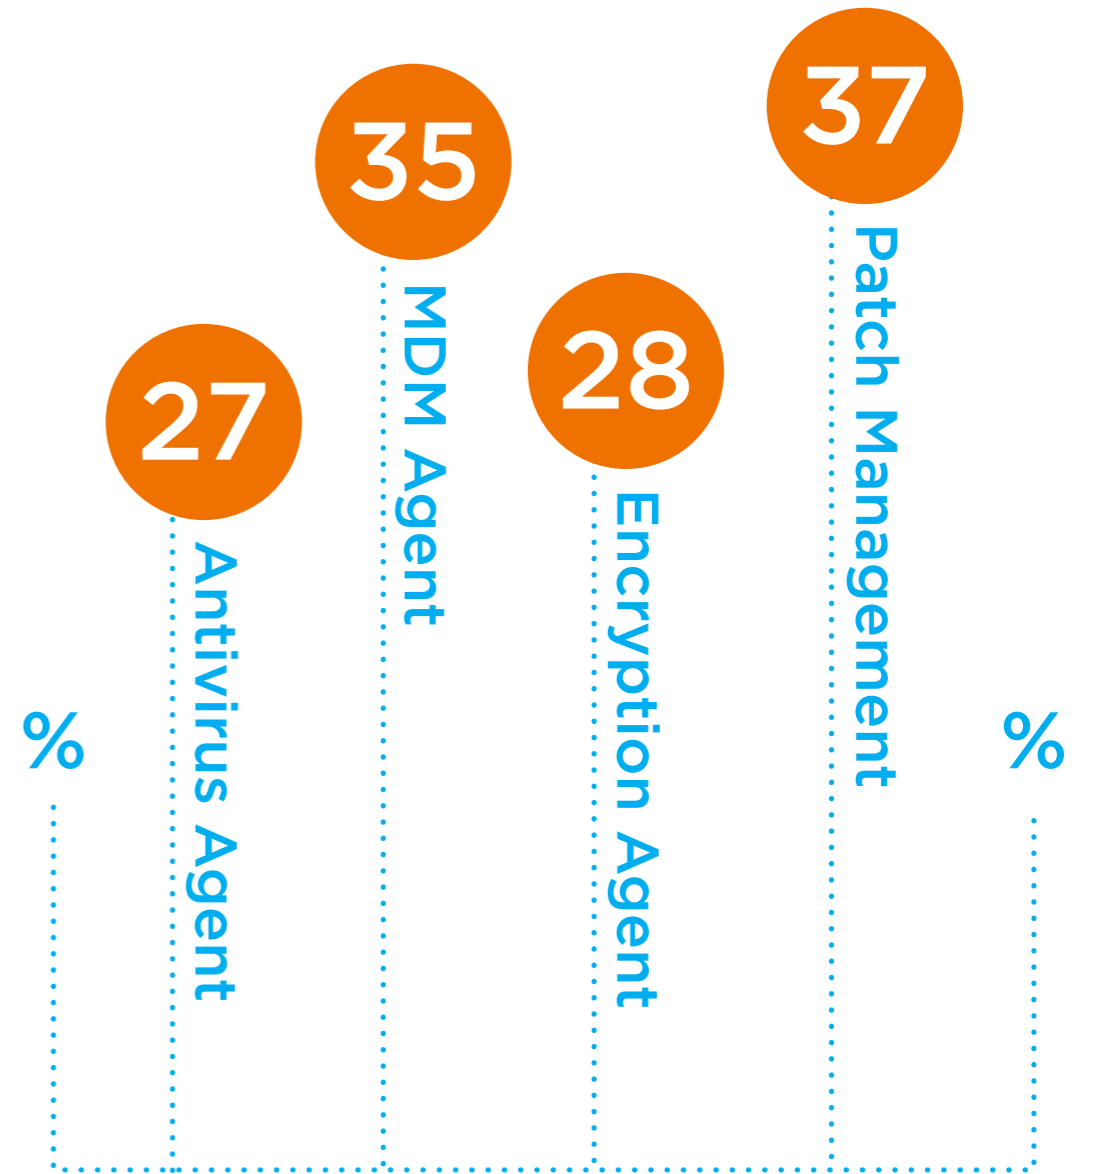

On a 7-point scale of confidence.

Call-to-Action:

Any response from 1 to 5 is considered unacceptable to ensure a secure network environment.
